This event raises funds for the AAUW Tech Trek program, a one-week residential summer scholarship camp for 8th grade girls. Tech Trek provides a supportive environment for girls to explore and expand their interests in science and math, with hands-on activities and projects led by experienced, paid teachers in a college setting. The goals of Tech Trek are to encourage girls to take math and science courses every year of high school, to motivate them to attend college, and to inspire them to consider careers in science, technology, engineering or math.
