

THE SOUTH BAY CHAMBER MUSIC SOCIETY is a nonprofit corporation founded by Ruth Breytspraak in 1963 to promote the appreciation of chamber music in the South Bay. Our chamber music series presents Southern California's finest professional musicians in seven pairs of concerts, free to the public.

For the major part of our funding, we rely on the generous donations of individuals. Additional funding is provided by the organizations listed on the first page. The funds are used primarily for the costs of presenting our concerts; our organization is administered entirely by volunteers. With membership you receive an invitation to our traditional Spring Patrons' Concert and help to insure the continuation of this series.
